The Parrot

AUTUMN

A cold, gray day, a lowering sky,
A lonesome pigeon wheeling by;
The soft, blue smoke that hangs and fades,
The shivering crane that flaps and wades;
Dead leaves that, whispering, quit their tree,
The peace the river sings to me;
The chill aloofness of the Fall—
I love it all!

WINTER

A sheet of ice, the ring of steel,
The crunch of snow beneath the heel;
Loud, jingling bells, the straw-lined sleigh,
A restless pair that prance and neigh;
The early coming of the night,
Red glowing logs, a shaded light;
The firelit realm of books is mine—
Oh, Winter's fine!

SPRING

The joys of living wreath my face,
My heart keeps time to freshet's race;
Of balmy airs I drink my fill . . .
Why, there's a yellow daffodil!
Along the stream a soft green tinge
Gives hint of feathery willow fringe;
Methinks I heard a Robin's "Cheer" . . .
I'm glad Spring's here!

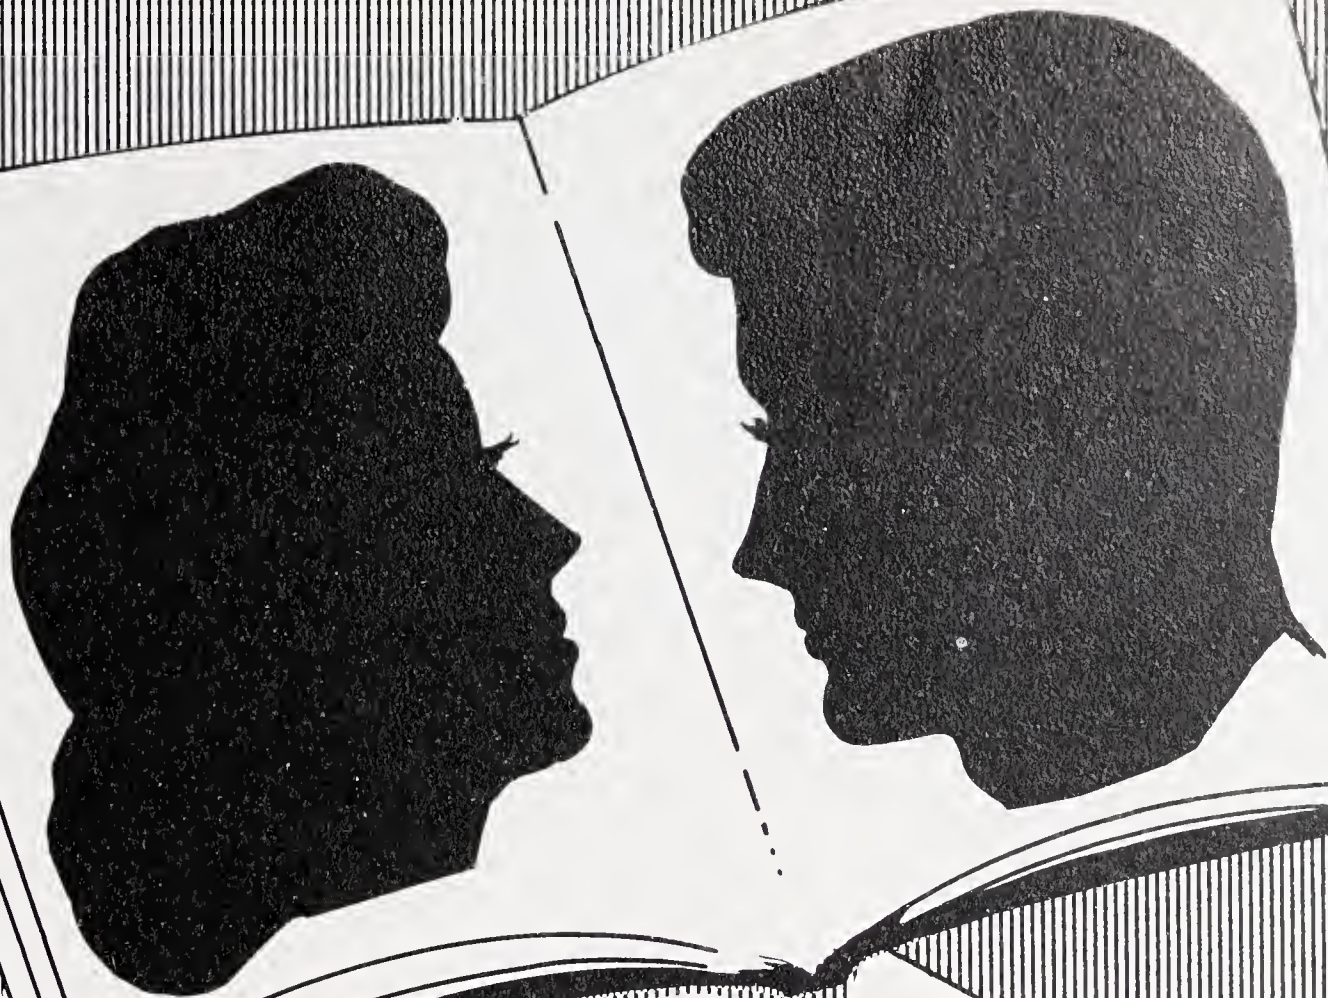

SUMMER

An afternoon of buzzing flies,
Heat waves that sear, and quivering rise;
The long white road, the plodding
team,
The deep, cool grass in which to dream;
The distant cawing of the crows,
Tall, waving grain, long orchard rows;
The peaceful cattle in the stream . . .
Midsummer's dream!

Left to right: Peggy Ritchie, Proofreader; Louise Overcash, Proofreader; Lynda Lipe, Proofreader; Sammy Safrit, Editor-in-Chief; Kay Wallace, Art Editor; Steve Daves, Business Manager; Mrs. Viola Odell, Sponsor; Harold Winecoff, Club Editor; Cecil Irvin, Assistant Business Manager; Faye Nesbit, Associate Editor; Bobby Fain, Sports Editor.

We, THE PARROT Staff of 1958, humbly present this edition of the China Grove High School Yearbook to the students and faculty. We hope it will be approved and enjoyed by all. If, after years of use, no memories come back, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Dedication

They have understood our problems, assisted us with patience of steel, listened to our complaints with an admirable smile, inspired us with confidence, encouraged us when we were disheartened, and enhanced our chance for success.

Their determined effort to make us satisfied and happy shall always be remembered as one of our most precious high school memories. Words can't express our appreciation for their various contributions; but to show how much we love, honor, and respect them, the 1958 Parrot Staff dedicates the '58 yearbook to the parents of the senior class.

In Acknowledgement,

The Staff of Parrot '58 wishes to acknowledge our most beloved sponsor and advisor, Mrs. Odell, by reserving this page in her honor. We express our appreciation for all she has meant to us in our brief four years with her, and our best wishes for her future. Her devotion to us and to her profession during the past years has reserved for her a place in each of our hearts.

Famous Sayings of Famous People

Alexander Pope: "The proper study of mankind is man."

Jesse Carson: "Students, I think I've said this before, but . . ."

William Wordsworth: "The child is father of the man."

Aldena A. Smith: "No, no, no, no, no, no!!!"

John Keats: "Beauty is truth, truth beauty."

Margaret Roseman: "Do you understand? Well, do you?"

Alfred Lord Tennyson: "I am a part of all that I have met."

Viola Odell: "All right, folks, hurry to get to your classes, the bell has rung."

Robert Burns: "The best laid schemes o' mice an' men gang aft agley."

Harry Bame: "All right, calm down back there!"

Ruth Lineberger: "I'll see that this goes on your permanent record."

William Shakespeare: "If this be error, and upon me proved, I never writ, nor no man ever loved."

Coach Linder: "Let's go out and play a good, hard, and clean football game."

John Allyson: "Now boys, remember you are your own limiting factor."

Ethel Bostian: "Now, Mr. Bostian says . . ."

William Ernest Henley: "I am the master of my fate; I am the captain of my soul."

Marsha Bradshaw: "If you don't get quiet, I'll send you back to your study hall."

Thelma Bostian: "Now let's put our heads together."

Wayne Polyak: "Why don't you forwards shoot the ball?"

Class History

Realizing that the end of our four years of high school has come, we want to pause a moment to recall the events which we experienced at China Grove High School.

On August 28, 1954, 112 eager, but somewhat frightened, boys and girls began our high school career. After a few weeks of settling down, we elected Johnny Overcash president of our class. It wasn't long until we had learned the routine of high school and were really enjoying ourselves.

We began our sophomore year with 109 members. We elected Cecil Irvin president. This was not a very eventful year but when our junior year rolled around, things really began to happen. Under the leadership of our president, Gene McCorkle, and our advisors, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. Ethel Bostian, and Mrs. Thelma Bostian, we sponsored a magazine sale, a Halloween Carnival, and a wonderful Junior-Senior Banquet at Hotel Concord.

Although our first three years were very exciting, our most enjoyable year was our senior year. We began with 71 former students and as the year progressed, we gained three new members, Frances Shell, Sandra Wise Harris, and John Rudisill.

After electing Bobby Fain president of the class, we turned our attention to the Washington trip in April.

As we embark on life's uncertain trails, we shall always remember the happy days spent at China Grove High School.

JOHNNY OVERCASH
Historian

Prophecy

Yesterday evening as I sat down to do my homework I had a very strange feeling as though I were in a daze. I suddenly found myself transported into the future to the year 1975. It seemed that in the last fifteen years BLAYNE MORGAN, a noted scientist, had greatly perfected space travel to the extent that most of the earth people were now living on the planets. It seemed that I was just getting on a space ship to go to the moon when I noticed that the pilots were JAMES DRYE and WAYNE WILSON, and the two beautiful hostesses, JUDY FISHER and PEGGY RITCHIE, helped to keep all of the passengers comfortable.

During the trip the man sitting beside me moved up front to talk to the pilots, so I picked up the newspaper which he had been reading and found that it was from the planet Pluto entitled "The Mutnik Review" with EARL ATWELL as its editor. There on the front page in very large red letters was "JOHN B. OVERCASH Campaigns Against STEVE DAVES for Solar King." There were some unique cartoons concerning their campaigns drawn by DOLYNN WEBB. Also on the front page was a big write-up about MIKE PROPST. It seemed that he had won another blue ribbon with his prize Martian Bull.

By this time I was getting extremely curious about this business of the planets. When we reached the Moon and I stepped off the space ship the first person I saw was JOHN RUDISILL. I went over to talk to him and, as usual, he was complaining. His job was to sweep the cosmic rays off all the space ships and he just never seemed to get anywhere. Another person who seemed to be at a standstill was DONALD MORRISON who was drilling for cheese on the opposite side of the street. As I was walking on down the street I was surprised to see STEVE SEABOCH coming out of the Moonbeams Lutheran Church so I went over to see how he was doing. He explained that he had been pastor there for the last seven years and that now he had just become Dr. Seaboch.

It was about lunch time then so I caught a cab and went to the "Moon Cafe" which the driver, LONNIE CARTER, suggested because it was owned by TONY SWINSON. It seemed that JOAN OVERCASH and LINDA WILHELM were the only waitresses and the food was delicious but very different from anything I had been used to.

I decided that the best way to see the planets would be on a sightseeing tour. First we boarded a long, low bus which I learned had been designed by BOBBY FAIN and toured the brand new High School that was designed and constructed by HAROLD WINECOFF. The name of this extravagant building was "Sky High" and I was astonished to see DONALD EAGLE as Principal, DELANE YOUNG as an English Professor, JAUNITA CARTNER teaching bookkeeping, and ALICE MILLER and MARTHA SMITH in charge of the cafeteria.

From there we ventured to a somewhat new establishment . . . that is, new to me, but not to the natives of the Moon . . . called a Satellite Hatchery which was owned and operated by MARCINE MOORE. I was wondering what had happened to her and GENE McCORKLE when a large broom came sweeping down the hall. Behind it was faithful Gene as acting janitor.

Leaving the Hatchery we climbed on board a space ship and flew to Venus where we first visited the "Video Gardens." The flowers grown there by LOUISE CARTER were simply breathtaking. There were so many new flowers which no one had ever seen.

From there we visited the City Hospital and the first thing I noticed was a sign reading CECIL IRVIN, famed orthodontist, (see, I did learn something in English after all). There was just one catch—instead of fixing teeth he was still knocking them out. The head nurse was MARY ELLEN RITCHIE and others on her staff were IRENE HONBARGER, KAROLYN HAMPTON, and FRANCES SHELL.

It seemed that on this planet they still had television and the next place we visited was a TV Shop owned by TAMARA MORGAN. When asked how she came about this business, she replied that she was always missing a program now and then and that now, with her own shop, she never had to worry. Her favorite program was "The Thin Man" starring JERRY ELLER.

Next we visited a very exclusive men's shop, "Haley's Sport Shop," owned by LARRY THOMAS and JIMMIE CHILDERS as manager. The shop seemed to be making these boys very rich.

From there we moved on to the planet Jupiter where the chief occupation was farming or dust scratching as it was called there. Their main crop was planet stools which, much to my surprise, resembled our toad stools, but, as the leading scratchers, SIDNEY ALBRIGHT, JOHNNY SLOAN, HAROLD SPECK, and ROY PINKSTON, pointed out, they are very nutritious.

We then toured one of their largest towns, Gurgleville, owned by DONALD SLOOP and JAMES SOLOMON. The most amazing sight in this city was the planet famous factory owned by VANCE GOODMAN manufacturing "Do It Yourself Guillotines" and right next door was a "You Did It Yourself, Now Let Us Fix It" shop owned by ARLENE and MAXINE WISE.

From there we ventured on into space to see a space ship race among RONALD TAYLOR, DAVID CLARK, NELSON HORTON, and KENNETH VANDERFORD. This was even more thrilling than any of the races they used to have in high school. It was a very close race but Ronald Taylor won by a headlight.

The next planet on our agenda was Neptune where we saw the latest movie "Gone With the Sputnik" in NeptaVision starring GRANT DAVIS and LYNDA LIPE as Rhett and Scarlet. Other famous stars also in the movie were RUTH SWANNER, DAVID WALKER, NED RAPE, and SONJA SECHLER. The clothes worn by these stars were very well fitted to the situations of the movie and I discovered that they had been designed by the one and only KAY WALLACE, the most famous designer of that period.

After this extraordinary movie we visited the beautiful home of the leading comet sweeper LOUISE OVERCASH. I was very glad to see that her job as a housewife was made much easier by her three lovely children. They were the cutest little green monsters I had ever seen. Also at the party were ANN DAVIS and SANDRA HARRIS who looked very radiant after their recent visit to the Satellite Hatchery. Ann was telling me that her oldest son was attending "Starlite University" and was studying the American Language. It seemed that his professor on this subject was NOLAN HEILIG. Sandra said that her son was interested only in sports. His favorite one being Footwhamy, especially since DONALD HARTSELL and SAM SAFRIT were coaches.

Our next planet was Mars and the day was almost over. We ended our tour with the "Sun Spot" which was a very luxurious night club. The floor show was terrific—JAMES RAY SHINN played a number of solos on his trumpet and DIANNE HENRICKSON and FAYE NESBIT sang their latest hit "Cross Over the Moon"; FRANCES STILLER demonstrated the new trend in dancing called the Marambo and was backed by a group called the "Star Twisters" with PHYLLIS GOODNIGHT, BETTY JEAN FREEZE, VIENNA GOODMAN, and LYDIA CRISP. Their costumes were exquisite, having been designed by MYRTLE LENTZ. For a side effect the club was featuring "Mr. Muscle Mars," which had been won that year by CLAUDE PARIS, and his two assistants DONNIE LENTZ and HARVEY MORGAN.

By then I was completely worn out and so were all the others so we stopped by the "Milky Way" for some ice cream and there waiting on customers was SYLVIA HOOKS. Her love for ice cream hasn't changed a bit after all these years.

After all of these surprises I was almost ready to drop so I caught the next ship back to earth in hopes of everything being normal again.

Signed, PATRICIA HAIRE
Class Prophetess

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1958

FIRST SECTION

We, the graduating class of 1958 of China Grove High School, being of sound mind and body, possessing our normal mental faculties, and by our own desire and intent, do hereby execute this document as our final testament.

SECOND SECTION

1. To our parents we leave appreciation for twelve years of guidance and understanding.
2. To our Principal, Mr. Carson, we leave thanks for his interest and help during our high school years.
3. To the faculty we leave our thanks for the important part they have played in our education.
4. To our class advisors, Miss Smith, Miss Roseman, and Mrs. Odell, we leave the hope that the Junior Class will gain as much from their guidance as we have.

THIRD SECTION

Sidney Albright leaves his bus to anyone who can stand to drive it.

Donald Sloop leaves nothing. He wants to take it all with him.

Mike Propst leaves his ability to get along with the boys in Kannapolis to Wayne Propst.

Karolyn Hampton leaves her ability to stay out of class to her brother Larry.

James Shinn, Ann Davis, and Sandra Harris leave their ability to get married and stay in school to anyone who wants to try it.

Ned Rape and Nelson Horton leave their love of skating to anyone who can stand up in skates.

Sammy Safrit and Donald Morrison leave their love of football to next year's team.

Mary Ellen Ritchie leaves her black hair to Mary Frances Goodnight.

Earl Atwell leaves his cat chain to anyone who wants it.

Donnie Lentz leaves bus 76 to anyone who thinks they can drive it.

Nolan Heilig leaves his side burns to anyone who wants them.

Grant Davis leaves his love for Granite Quarry to Wayne Irvin.

Lonnie Carter wills his ability to be heard as well as seen to Ralph Hallman.

Johnny Overcash leaves his ability to play all three sports and still make good grades to anyone who is willing to try it.

Blayne Morgan leaves his size 13 shoes to James Waldrop.

Tamara Morgan wills her ability to get along with everybody to Loretta Deal.

Arlene and Maxine Wise leave their ability to look alike to anyone who looks alike.

Juanita Cartner leaves her love for China Grove High School to Marie Cartner and the Blankenship sisters.

Gene McCorkle wills the shelf in locker No. 83 to anyone who is lucky enough to get it.

Frances Shell leaves her quietness to the noisy boys.

Donald Hartsell leaves all his positions on the football team to anyone who can remember them all.

Claude Paris leaves his defensive tackle position to Richard Roseman.

Steve Seaboch wills his carefree ways and unfailing record of always getting caught when disobeying rules to Don Yost hoping that he may escape occasionally.

Tony Swinson leaves his smile to Johnny Saunders.

Betty Jean Freeze and Linda Wilhelm leave to any two girls their ability to each go with a "James" and after graduation to enter the same profession.

Joan Overcash leaves to her sister, Kay, her typing eraser in hopes that she won't have to use it.

Dolynn Webb leaves her ability to stay up all night studying for a test and then have a test on everything but what she has studied to her sister, Joyce.

Wayne Wilson leaves his wrecked Chevrolet to Gene Stirewalt.

Pat Haire leaves her job at the Rowan Dairy to Linda Overcash.

Roy Pinkston and Delane Young leave their brilliant Sociology questions to Don Yost and Donald Smith.

Steve Daves leaves his capacity for lunchroom rolls to anyone who can digest them.

Sylvia Hooks leaves her nickname "Shorty" to Sylvia Sechler.

Sonjia Sechler leaves her curly hair to Betty Weant.

Frances Stiller leaves her position as chief majorette to Joan Overcash.

Ruth Swanner leaves her size to the smallest person in the Junior Class.

James Solomon and James Drye leave their back seats in Sociology to Henry Morgan and Robert Nesbit.

Bobby Fain wills his red flat top to Stanley Castor.

Harvey Morgan leaves his ability to lose shop tools to Charles Lentz.

Ronald Taylor and Larry Thomas leave their love of China Grove High School to David Abernathy and Ken Vanderford.

Grady Moore leaves the basketball scoreboard to anyone who can press the right button.

Diane Henrickson leaves her happy smiles and winning ways to Carolyn Yost.

Judy Fisher and Peggy Ritchie leave their lasting friendship to anyone who can stand each other for nine years.

Marcine Moore leaves her ability to stand and talk to boys in the hall until the tardy bell rings and get by with it to her sister, Mary.

Louise Carter wills her place in Driver Education to anyone who has the nerve to take it.

Lynda Lipe and Don Eagle leave their ability to always have a good time and also their seat on the basketball bus to Loretta Deal and Steve Whicker.

Faye Nesbit and Kay Wallace leave their friendship to Sue Wise and Susan Hunter.

Vance Goodman leaves his hard study hall seat to Sammy Allman.

John Rudisill leaves his '57 Chevrolet to his brother Robert.

Louise Overcash leaves her rootin' tootin' high falootin' squarrel shootin' ability to Andrea Stirewalt.

Myrtle Lentz leaves her position on the basketball team to Mildred Corriher.

David Walker leaves his French accent to anyone who wants it.

Irene Honbarger leaves her seat in Mrs. Smith's English class to Mike Fink with hopes he can do better than she did.

Harold Winecoff leaves his ability to understand Latin verbs to A. L. Chamberlain.

Martha Smith wills her bookkeeping books to her brother Walter in hopes that he will enjoy them as much as she did.

Vienna Goodman leaves her love for commercial subjects to anyone who has an equal desire to become a top-notch "Girl Friday."

Phyllis Goodnight leaves her love for the beach to her sister Kitty.

Jerry Eller leaves his size to Billy Haney.

David Clark leaves his knowledge of Chemistry to anyone who wants it.

Jimmy Childers leaves his dependability to Gayle Michael.

Lydia Crisp leaves her winning ways to Linda Graeber.

Cecil Irvin wills his brilliant mind to the dumbest person in the Junior class.

I, Johnny Sloan, leave to everyone attending China Grove High School, the task of becoming a Senior.

I have enjoyed being in the same English class with you. I think you are sweet and fast but not least "cute." Good luck in the future to a boy who deserves it.

Frank
I have enjoyed being in class with you this year. I think you are a lot of fun and I should go on to the next year. I hope you will have a lot of luck in the future. I hope you will be a success.
